WebTech Wireless Adds Andrew Gutman to its Board of Directors

VANCOUVER, British Columbia – March 23, 2011 – WebTech Wireless Inc. (TSX: WEW) (the “Company”) is pleased to announce the appointment of Mr. Andrew Gutman as a director of the Company, effective immediately. Mr. Gutman, an independent director, is an experienced finance and high tech executive with ten years of experience in private equity/venture capital, as well as fifteen years experience in managing and/or advising (as a director) profitable, growth and acquisition oriented software companies. He is the former Chief Executive Officer of Speedware Corporation and the former General Manager of TSB International Inc. in roles where he was involved in executing and successfully integrating a number of acquisitions.

“We are delighted to welcome Mr. Gutman to WebTech Wireless and to the board,” said Glen Brownlee, Chairman of the Board of Directors of WebTech Wireless. “Andrew Gutman adds significant operating and M&A experience and expertise to our already extremely qualified and independent board which will be of benefit to all of our stakeholders. I know that I speak for all of our directors and for management when I say that I look forward to working with him and to benefiting from his contributions to our strategic and tactical discussions and decisions.”
